

The Sixth Sunday After Pentecost
July 12, 2020

This week, we hear another one of the parables that Jesus shared. A parable is a special story that helps explain something that's hard to explain. Last week, we heard about the sower who planted seeds. This week, we here about wheat and weeds that grow side by side.

*This coloring page is from the book Drawn to the Gospels: An Illustrated Lectionary by Jay Sidebotham. It is reproduced under the purchase agreement with Church Publishing, Inc. for use within our church. Jay Sidebotham is an Episcopal priest in the Diocese of Eastern North Carolina but he had an earlier career as an animator. If his work looks familiar, that's because he created cartoons for "Schoolhouse Rock."*
